

"NEVER SHUT A WOMAN'S MOUTH WHEN YOU KNOW SHE'S GONNA SPEAK OUT LOUD"

"THEY USED THEIR VOICE, NOW
IT'S TIME TO USE
YOURS!"

Mrs Emma Sprason was born in 1867 in West Bromwich, Staffordshire. She educated herself after dropping out of school at the age of 13. Her husband worked as a postman and in the Wolverhampton branch of the independent labour party. Both of them were a part of the ILP (Independent Labour Party).

Emma Sprason was a suffragette (WSPU). She used direct actions such as refusing to pay taxes. Other suffragettes were violent and attacked people and property. Some chained themselves to property or made banners.

Women lost their lives to get the right to vote. This is why the women of today should use that right and respect those who fought and protested in the past.
